The essence of the web app

Background

We work every month constantly and we know our monthly income, but we don't always know how much we spend every month.

This is why quite a few people sometimes find that their bank account is in debt, without them expecting it at all.

Those people wonder how it is possible to avoid such a situation and end the month with obligation? The answer to this is quite simple, to track expenses - or as we call it - "Spent It Right"!

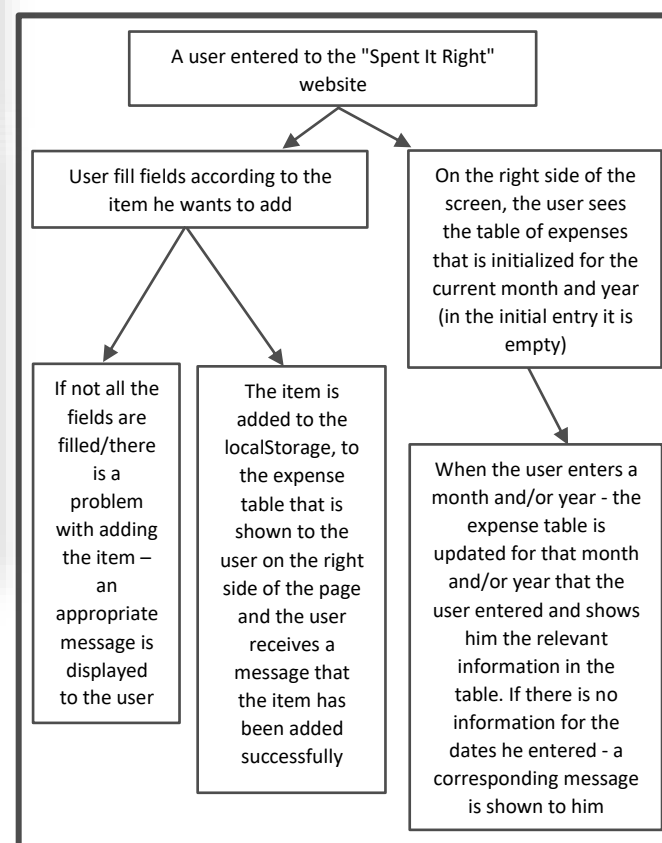

Target

Managing expenses in a visually organized way.

Track past expenses.

An expense report is available for each month and/or year!
